Drexel Online Earns Honorable Mention in Digital Education Achievement Awards

Philadelphia, PA (PR Web) – October 27, 2008 – Drexel University Online was recently named a Digital Achievement Award recipient by the Center for Digital Education in the category of Learning and Engagement. The Digital Achievement Awards showcases outstanding Web sites, projects and programs, and recognizes those creating meaningful educational experiences for students across the globe. Drexel University Online received an honorable mention.

The Center for Digital Education is a national research institute on information technology and best practices in education. The Learning and Engagement awards recognize organizations for outstanding achievement in engaging students online. Awards were given in the following three categories: learning and engagement, community and accountability. Other awardees included Simon Fraser University, Alabama Learning Exchange, and the Utah Educator Services Suite.

“This award reflects our ongoing commitment to achieving the highest standards in online learning,” said Dr. Kenneth Hartman, academic director of Drexel Online. “It’s always welcome news to receive recognition for the work which ultimately enhances the educational experience of Drexel Online’s students.”

Drexel Online offers more than 60 fully online degree and certificate programs ranging from education to health care to business and beyond. For more information about Drexel’s online programs, visit Drexel’s online degree website, e-mail info@drexel.com or call (877) 215-0009.
